

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, every child in the Palmetto State is deserving of a quality education that helps strengthen the foundation for a lifetime of success; and

WHEREAS, excellence in education extends beyond the knowledge gained from a textbook and the skills learned in a classroom and into the realm of character, citizenship, morality, respect, and philanthropy; and

WHEREAS, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, Rabbi Menachem Schneerson, dedicated his life to making the world a better place for all people, emphasizing the importance of kindness, compassion and high ethical standards to a bright and fruitful future; and

WHEREAS, Education and Sharing Day calls attention to the Rebbe's blueprint for exceptional education and fulfillment in life - a cooperative effort of parents, educators, and community and religious leaders helping students achieve the knowledge, tools, morals, and character that contribute to an improved quality of life for all people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Henry McMaster, Governor of the great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim March 27, 2018, as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to reflect on the teachings of Rabbi Menachem Schneerson while honoring his remarkable legacy.
