

When they looked for the oil jars with the high priests' seal they found only one that still had the seal on it with enough oil for only one day. They knew that eight days are needed for new oil to be made.